THEY DON'T HOLD US UP

The Plumbers Deny Allegations.

NOT OVERPAID SAY THEY

Compared with Cost of Material and Living Wages are Low In Honolulu.

The members of the Journeymen Plumbers' Association in Honolulu say that statements have been made about them which are not true. They declare that they are not banded together to rob the people of Honolulu, and they want it known for the benefit of people who believe they are looking for spoil that the plumbers of Honolulu are not getting the same wages proportionately as are plumbers in almost all the principal cities of the United States west of the Missouri river. They give instances, as follows:

The plumbers in Butte City, Montana, receive $5 per day of eight hours; in Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane, Washington, they receive $4.50 per day of eight hours; in San Francisco the wages paid are $4 a day of eight hours.

They show, in substantiation of their claims, the difference in prices between San Francisco and Honolulu. "A few days ago," said one of the plumbers, talking to an Advertiser reporter, "I was in need of some tools and went to one of the principal hardware stores and priced the goods. I needed a pair of pliers, worth in San Francisco, 35 cents; here they asked me 75 cents. I wanted a wrench, worth, in San Francisco, $1.50; here I was asked $3.50. Other tools cost in the same proportion."

Continuing on this line of argument, the plumber said, "There's a big difference in the prices of articles outside the hardware line, as well. It all counts up. We have to pay more for almost everything down here than we would on the Coast. Wages should be proportionately higher. In regard to one master plumber trying to sell a journeyman plumber to another for $10 to get rid of him, why, as soon as a master plumber doesn't want a man or does not need him around, he immediately discharges him. There are thirty-five journeymen plumbers in town at present time and where they don't do their work properly there is a Board of Health to compel them to do the right thing. When an advertisement was placed in the San Francisco papers, warning plumbers to stay away from Honolulu there was twenty per cent and more of the plumbers here idle. I would like to see the plumber in Honolulu who gets $9 a day."

It is said that the plan of the local union is to keep journeymen plumbers out of the country so that those here can make any demands they choose when the sewerage work starts in. This the local men deny. The following is the advertisement which was inserted in the San Francisco papers:

NOTICE TO PLUMBERS!

"Keep away from Honolulu; sewerage system not complete; 20 per cent of men not working. By request of 'JOURNEYMAN PLUMBERS' PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION OF HONOLULU. June 14, 1900."

NEILLS TELL OF THEIR SUCCESS IN HONOLULU

The James Neill Company has made a tremendous success in Honolulu, where, up to the date of the opening on June 23, there had not been a good theatrical entertainment for many months, says the San Francisco Music and Drama. The excitement and uncertainty caused by the visitations of the plague and the political situation abated after the annexation of Hawaii and the first performance under the new regime was given by the Neill Company. Business Manager Edwin H. Neill, the genial and exceedingly popular brother of the successful actor, reports the receipts for the first two weeks to be $12,000.

The opening production was "An American Citizen," and the repertoire, which is published elsewhere, illustrates the strength and versatility of the Neill organization. Extra performances were given when it was announced that the Neills would leave soon and there were numerous theater parties from the sister islands hundreds of miles away and from the adjacent plantations, the people going from all directions to patronize the popular organization. Charles Astor Parker, who directed the tour, says that the Neill Company will arrive in San Francisco per Alameda on or about July 27, and have already received an offer of a guarantee of $50,000 for a season of five weeks in Honolulu, a year from the coming month. Mr. Parker says that next year the company will extend the tour to Australia and the Orient.

In the lately issued memorials of Charles Henry Pearson, once one of Australia's chief men of affairs, an amusing story of his student life at Oxford deals with a wayward genius, whom he styles "L." "It was one of his troubles that he was afflicted with self-consciousness. One day he confided to a friend that he had determined to try getting drunk as a possible cure. The friend argued against the plan, but attached no particular importance to the matter, and presently forgot all about it. Late that night, as he was at work, he was startled by a noise as of some one stumbling up stairs and falling against his door. He opened his oak, and 'L.' staggered in and threw himself on a chair, very drunk and muttering, 'Self-conscious still; self-conscious still!'"

"The American lawyer" says that the Kentucky Legislature evidently does not believe in the "didn't know it was loaded" excuse, as it passed an act some time ago which reads as follows: "It shall be unlawful for any person to fire or discharge at random any deadly weapon, whether said weapon be loaded or unloaded."
